Jan Samvad brings govt. to your door-steps

CM reaches out to people to deliver quick redressal of grievances

By Ajay Bhardwaj

Haryana Chief Minister, Sh. Manohar Lal who has always positioned himself as a 'Jan Sevak' and is known for his simplicity and frugality in public life has been winning the hearts of every Haryanvi through his Jan Samvad Programmes.

Beginning from April 2, the Chief Minister has so far covered Bhiwani, Palwal, Kurukshetra, Sirsa and Mahendragarh districts. Significantly, the Jan Samvad programmes are also helping the chief minister to take stock of the implementation of welfare schemes like Ayushman Bharat, Chirayu Haryana Yojana, Parivar Pehchan Patra, e-Fard, automatic generation of ration card and pension etc.

The Jan Samvad Programmes have been not only playing a key role in bridging the gap between 'Janta and Sarkar' but are also proving to be a big hit among the villagers as this platform facilitates the villagers to directly interact with the Chief Minister and share their demands and grievances. Through these Samvad programmes, Sh. Manohar Lal is not only taking the responsibility for linking the villagers directly to the government but also understands the nature and extent of the grievances faced by his citizens, which he considers as his own family.

In a novel initiative, the chief minister before starting the Jan Samvad programme from Abubshahar village, extended birthday greetings to two daughters, Prati-gya and Priyanka with "shagun". The gesture was widely applauded by the villagers.

So far, around 7200 complaints and demands have been submitted on the portal and have been forwarded to concerned Administrative Secretaries for necessary action. The Chief Minister, at a meeting held recently, directed administrative secretaries to seriously consider the complaints, demands, and recommendations received from the public during the Jan Samvad Programmes and ensure timely and quick redressal of every complaint.

"Every officer should ensure that a complainant does not have to run from pillar to post to get the solution of their problem and to achieve this objective only, the initiative of organizing Jan Samvad has been started," said Sh. Manohar Lal.

The Chief Minister said that the officers should check the Jan Samvad portal every 7 days and review how many complaints registered under their departments have been resolved.

He also directed that every Administrative Secretary or his nodal officer should access the Gram Darshan Portal, Nagar Darshan Portal, CM Window, and Jan Samvad Portal on a daily basis to expedite the completion of tasks.

"We had conducted a special survey of crop damage, according to which the crop damage was reported in 2.09 lakh acres in 18 districts. An amount of Rs 181 crore was released as compensation

While launching the novel scheme the chief minister said the total water availability in the state is 20,93,598 crore litres whereas the total water demand is 34,96,276 crore litres making a water gap of 14 lakh crore litres.

"The plan aims to meet the twin challenges of water depletion and water logging. I am confident that the action plan will serve as a roadmap to achieve the targets of water saving and water management in the state," he said.

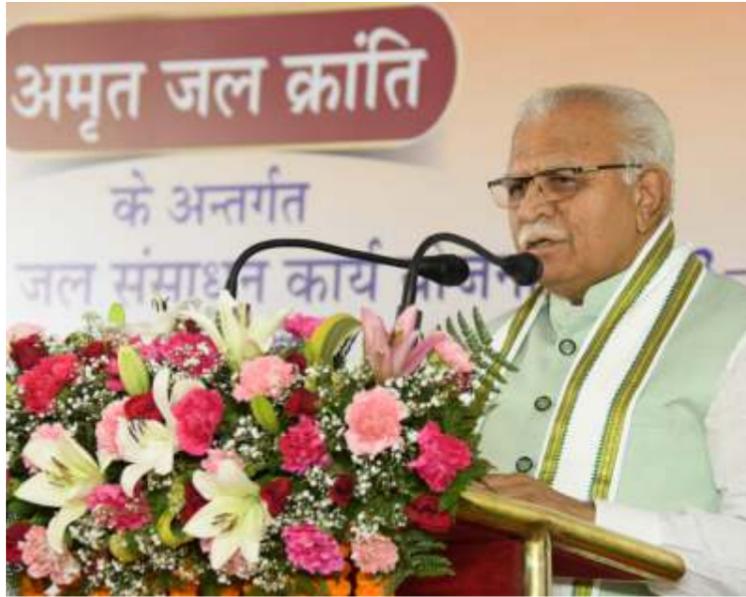

All water related Departments have come forward and taken the responsibility to conserve water through various demand and supply side interventions, which would save around 6.97 lakh crore litres (49.7 percent) of water in next two years.

As the maximum amount of water is used in the agriculture and horticulture sector, which is 86 percent and 5 percent, respectively, the Chief Minister said continuous efforts are needed to reduce water consumption by adopting water conservation methods.

The Agriculture Department has already included various measures in the action plan according to which 3.14 lakh acres of area will be covered under crop diversification, which will save 1.05 lakh crore litres (7.6 percent) of water. Direct seeding of paddy will be done in 4.75 lakh acres and will save 1.18 lakh crore litres (8.4 percent). 27.53 lakh acres will be brought under conservation tillage to save 0.51 lakh crore litres (3.7 percent).

Further 0.47 lakh crore litres (3.4 percent) will be saved by using high varieties in 3.49 lakh acres, 0.35 lakh crore litres (2.5 percent) of water will be saved by using green manure in 9.73 lakh acres. 0.27 lakh crore litres will be saved by covering 0.43 lakh acres under natural farming. A target has been set to save litres (1.9 percent) of water.

Similarly, Irrigation Department (including MICADA), Public Health Engineering Department, Panchayats Department (including Ponds Authority and Rural Development) and others (PWD, ULB, Forest, Education (Higher, Technical and Secondary) have also given measures for water resources.

Water management

The Chief Minister said that 'Reduce, Recycle and Reuse' should be our focus as we move towards water management and conservation.

He said that as present, 250 cusec water is being given to Delhi as per the Supreme Court orders. In the coming times, the water need is certainly going to increase, hence dedicated efforts are being made to ensure that proper management of water with optimum use, recycle and reuse is done.

Govt 'tracking' every child to reduce dropout rate

Haryana Review Bureau

The Haryana Government is tracking every child who is neither coming to Anganwadi nor to any school, including the playway ones, to ascertain the actual status of children.

The government is working tirelessly to reduce the number of school dropouts. The School Education Department has been given the responsibility of tracking children in the age group of 6 to 18 years.

Every child is being tracked by the department and such children, as are not getting education in government or private schools, nor in Gurukul or Madrasa, will be tracked and brought to school to ensure that no child is deprived of education.

This was disclosed by the Chief Minister, Mr Manohar Lal, while presiding over a meeting of the State Level DISHA Committee through video-conferencing with administrative secretaries, and deputy commissioners.

Transport facility

He directed the officers concerned to ensure transport facility for school students travelling a distance of more than one kilometre. For proper monitoring of the safe and secure travelling of these students, one of the teachers of these schools should be made the nodal officer. Possibility should also be explored to develop a strategy to pay the travel expenses to these students, he said.

Ensuring the safety of every child is the topmost priority of the state government. For this, a comprehensive framework has been made under which age group-wise data of Parivar Pehchan Patra has been shared with different departments. According to the data, the responsibility of children up to 6 years has been entrusted to the Women and Child Development Department.

Child immunization

Reviewing the child immunization programme, he said the responsibility of immunization had also been given to the Women and Child Development Department. It should meet the target of immunization in collaboration with Anganwadi workers and ANMs.

The state government is committed to providing a roof over the head of every needy person. Reviewing the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Rural) and (Urban), he said that apart from these schemes, if a separate plan has to be made at the state government level, it should be done so that no needy person remains without a house.

For this, the possibilities of providing houses by holding talks with banks or by giving some share from the state government should be explored, he added.

The hospital shall possess a valid NABH accreditation/entry level NABH certification during the whole period of empanelment with the state government and shall submit renewed NABH accreditation/entry level NABH certification before expiry, failing which it will be deempanelled automatically, without any prior notice.

The Ayush Department, Haryana, has full right for inspection of empanelled hospitals if any complaint is received.

Fly kites but not with banned manja!

By Parveen K Modi

In Haryana, and want to indulge in the breezy pleasure of kite-flying! Make sure that the thread (manja) you use is not Chinese and does not, in any manner, cut into the norms laid down by the authorities. It should not be laced with the banned stuff.

For, determined to protect and improve the environment and safeguard people, forests and wildlife, the Haryana Government, led by the Chief Minister, Mr Manohar Lal, has imposed a complete ban on the sale, production, storage, supply, import and use of kite flying thread made out of nylon, plastic or any other synthetic material, including the popularly known as "Chinese manja".

The ban also covers any other kind of sharp kite-flying thread which is laced with glass, metal or any other sharp material.

Under the directions issued by Mr Vineet Garg, ACS, Environment, Forests and Wild Life Department, kite-flying shall be permissible only with a cotton thread, free from any sharp/metallic/glass components, adhesives and thread strengthening materials.

The directions find their roots in the observation that during kite-flying, injuries are caused to people and birds on account of the use of the thread made out of plastic, nylon or similar such synthetic material, including popularly known "Chinese thread/ manja", or, any other thread coated with glass/metallic components.

Though not very often, such injuries sometimes turn fatal causing death of people and birds. The ban has been imposed to protect the people and birds from the fatal effects of kite-flying thread made out of plastic, nylon or similar such synthetic material.

Cause of concern

It has also been noted that during kite-flying several kites get cut in the sky as a consequence of the competition or otherwise. All such cut threads, along with kites, keep lying on the land for a long time because of the very long life of plastic materials.

Non-biodegradable in nature, these become a cause of concern from the environment point of view.

Extensive use of such non-biodegradable thread often results in a flash over on the power lines and substations which may cause outages and interruptions, straining and damaging electrical assets, causing accidents, injuries and loss of life; It is a well known fact that the activity of the birds is at peak between 6 am and 8 am, and from 5 pm to 7 pm. It is desirable to protect birds, including vultures, which are getting extinct by the day and have been classified as rare and endangered species.

The ban aims to protect them from such fatal kite flying thread/ manja.

Designated officers have been authorized to implement the notification containing these directions in their respective jurisdiction as per the guidelines issued by state government. They are:

Haryana Review Bureau

Haryana achieves one more milestone thanks to the visionary leadership and guidance of Chief Minister Mr Manohar Lal. It has become the first state of the country where 12 government universities have become Divyang-friendly, a giant step towards achieving the goal of empowerment through total inclusion.
